KSOU Academic Bhavan COVID Care Centre's novel initiative

Huge compost pit to recycle food waste

Centre's Nodal Officer Lt. Col. Dr. S.U. Ashok shows the way

Lt. Col. Dr. Ashok

Mysuru, Aug. 18 (RK&KS)- The COVID Care Centre (CCC) established at the Academic Bhavan of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) at Mandakalli, which has 526 in-patients as of today, has now got a huge compost pit to convert food and other wet waste into manure, which would be supplied to the Horticulture Department soon. Thanks to the initiative taken by Lt. Col. Dr. S.U. Ashok, a Probationary KAS Officer, who is also the Nodal Officer of the KSOU CCC.

Dr. Ashok, speaking to SOM this morning, said that there was a problem in disposing food and other wet waste generated at the CCC as the Gram Panchayat and MCC refused to transport the waste citing various reasons. As the waste began to accumulate, there was an urgent need to dispose it of scientifically and an idea of turning waste into compost was conceived. A pit measuring 50 ft X 40 ft and eight feet deep was dug up at a distance of 800 ft from the main building, he said.

Pointing out that the process of converting food and other wet waste began yesterday (Aug. 17), Dr. Ashok said that steps have been taken to prevent stench from emanating from the compost pit. After plastic waste is removed, the food and other wet waste are dumped into the pit, bleaching powder is sprinkled and coco peat (made out of coconut husk) is added along with limestone and leaves procured from the Forest Department.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Have you noticed how mobile phones have a tendency to plop into water. Break on a cement floor rather than soft sand that we know. As we do view glumly the cobweb snaking onto the screen but this affinity for water is another ball game. All too often you hear the moaning and groaning over it getting wet ... fell into the kitchen sink, got soaked in the rain, left it on a wet patch, dropped it into a swimming pool, take your choice. And instead of cobwebs you now have that glazed cloud crossing your screen and literally raining on your parade.

Since mobile phones are the fifth limb for the human race and their decision to stop functioning the equivalent of a panic that even COVID would be proud of, the soaking is at best a Defcon I catastrophe. Like with the virus everyone has a cure for this condition and you are now an extended patient. Put it into dry raw rice comes the sage advice and now you are burying it in basmati and hoping it will turn pristine again but next morning the cloud is still there only thicker and more opaque. If not the heater leave it in the sun, says that one friend everyone has who knows everything and if that doesn't work place it in front of a fan and let the moisture vanish. Everyone's phone but yours.

And now they have drying kits that cost a packet and you place the offending instrument in them, seal them, leave them on a table, run to your room and fall upon your knees and pray to the Gods to save you because you just cannot afford another phone and you haven't even finished the EMIs on this one. Funny how these manufacturers give you three cameras and all these other gizmos that you never use and no one has ever said, hmmm, why don't we make them waterproof and save the world so much hassle. — Bikram Vohra in The Times of India

Sheep frozen for hours due to 'change in weather'

Troutbeck: A flock of sheep stood frozen in place for hours due to 'change in weather' and a photo of the frozen sheep was captured on camera by Rory Davis, as he and his family stayed at a holiday cottage in Troutbeck in the Lake District recently.

He witnessed the unusual encounter as he and his family stayed at a holiday cottage in Troutbeck in the Lake District. Rory says he received a text from his mum at 10 am telling him to look at the sheep but didn't think much of it until later.

It wasn't until girlfriend Emily peered out the window an hour later and noticed the sheep weren't moving at all.

"From the moment my mum text me at 10am to the moment I left for the day 1pm, they were just frozen. It wasn't until I came back later that day to find all the sheep were gone," he said.

Farm's 12-acre corn maze spells out 'COVID GO AWAY'

Michigan: A Michigan pumpkin farm awaiting its re-opening, remodeled its 13-acre corn maze with a timely message: "COVID GO AWAY."

Johnson's Giant Pumpkins in Saginaw said the corn maze was remodeled in anticipation of the business' planned reopening Sept. 12.

Owner Gerald Johnson said the message should also serve as a reminder to be safe as the virus continues to spread.

"It's still out there, we still have to be careful, we still need to wear masks where needed, and just be aware of it and take reasonable precautions," Johnson said.

The farm said in a Facebook post that guests will be able to send a message to the coronavirus by visiting the maze when it opens.

"Stomp out 'COVID GO AWAY' as you wander through the 13-acre corn maze this fall," the farm said in a Facebook post.

City BJP Units felicitate newly-appointed Party Vice-President B.Y. Vijayendra

Mysuru, Aug.18 (MK&DM)- Newly-appointed State BJP Vice-President B.Y. Vijayendra, younger son of Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa, was felicitated by the City, District and Youth Units at the Party Office in Chamarajapuram here yesterday.

This was Vijayendra's first visit to the city after being appointed as one of the ten Vice-Presidents of the State BJP Unit.

Addressing party workers on the occasion, Vijayendra assured that he would act as a bridge between the people of the State and the Party.

Stating that he will be touring the entire State shortly, Vijayendra said that though he is new to politics, he has been associated with the political battles fought by his father for over three decades. Recalling the efforts of his father Yediyurappa in bringing the party to power in the State and the first BJP Government in South India, he said that all members of the party are equals.

Highlighting his plans for bagging at least 40 Assembly segments in Mysuru region in the next Assembly polls, Vijayendra said that though he is the son of the Chief Minister, he stands to be a common party worker.

Maintaining that he has taken criticisms aside, he promised to do whatever he can for the cause of the people in his capacity.

Citing the 2008 and 2018 Assembly poll results, when the BJP just fell short of the required number for forming a Government of its own and subsequently had to do a lot of manoeuvring for forming the Government, Vijayendra called upon the party workers to start preparations for the next Assembly polls from now itself.

Reflecting on his campaign for the party in Varuna Assembly segment, where he was tipped to be the party candidate in the last Assembly polls, Vijayendra said that he cannot ever forget the affection of the people.

Chamaraja MLA L. Nagendra said that Vijayendra had the chance to sit along with him in the Assembly as a Legislator. However, there is no doubt that he will be in the Assembly after the next polls, he said and expressed the hope that Vijayendra, though a native of Shivamogga district, would be an MLA from Mysuru district.

City BJP leader M. Rajendra, who was also appointed as a Vice-President of the State BJP unit along with Vijayendra, Hassan MLA Preetam Gowda, former Ministers C.H. Vijayshankar and Kote M. Shivanna, former MLA Dr. Bharathishankar, senior leaders Raghu Kautilya, H.V. Rajiv and M.V. Ravishankar, City BJP President T.S. Srivatsa, local leaders C. Ashok, Giridhar, Vaneesh, L.R. Mahadevaswamy, Hema Nandish, Kiran Gowda, Suresh Babu, Mahesh and others were present.

More on property tax collection by MCC

Sir,

This refers to the news item mentioning that MCC will take severe action including attachment of property, if property tax is not paid immediately (SOM dated Aug.14). It is really commendable that MCC has decided to toughen its stand against defaulters after decades of laxity and poor enforcement.

Generally, tax payment consumes quite a while, making it necessary for the payer to spend considerable time in close contact with staff and other people. Especially as tax collection has been partially computerised this time, it involves more than one visit to the MCC Office.

Also it is quite well-known that majority of those who come to the office are senior citizens, the most vulnerable segment of population in COVID-19 pandemic. As it is really important for MCC to collect this huge revenue, some alternate methods need to be introduced at least for this year.

MCC officials can go door-to-door and collect the same amount as last year or some closer round amount now, sparing the senior citizens this avoidable risk of exposure to COVID-19. Of course, after all the due computing, the difference in amount can be adjusted against or with the next year's tax payment.

Bengaluru, Aug.18- The results of the Common Entrance Test (CET) for admission to Engineering, Architecture, Agriculture, Pharmacy and several other professional courses (barring Medical and Dental courses) in Karnataka will be announced on Aug.20.

Disclosing this here yesterday, Deputy Chief Minister Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan, who is also the Higher Education Minister said that CET was held on July 30 and 31 amidst a slew of measures, which included thermal screening of students at the entrance of the exam hall, mandatory wearing of face masks and maintenance of physical distancing, among others.

Pointing out that the exam was scheduled to be held in April but was postponed due to the pandemic, he said that around 1.94 lakh students had registered for the test. For the first time, the results are being announced in just 20 days after the exam, he added.

Stating that the counselling for admission to Engineering and other professional courses will be done before October, Dr. Ashwathnarayan said that the counselling, including document verification will be conducted online and students need not visit any of the Karnataka Examinations Authority (KEA) Nodal Centres.

In a good news for students amid COVID-19 pandemic, there will be no change in fee structure for engineering stream.

Pointing out that there will be no hike in fees in view of COVID-19 and floods, Dr. Ashwathnarayan said that there will be two types of fee structure. In one of the two compositions, it has been decided to fix fee of Rs. 65,360 for CET students and Rs.1,43,748 for COMED-K students. In another composition, it will be Rs. 58,808 for CET students and Rs. 2,01,960 for COMED-K students, he said.

NEET and JEE entrance exams in September as scheduled

New Delhi, Aug.18- The National Eligibility Cum Entrance Test (NEET) for admission to Medical and Dental Courses and Joint Entrance Exam (JEE) for admission to IITs will take place as scheduled in September, with the Supreme Court on Monday dismissing a petition seeking postponement of exams due to COVID pandemic.

A three-Judge Bench of the Supreme Court headed by Justice Arun Mishra dismissed the plea observing that the career of students cannot be put under jeopardy for long.

The petition filed by eleven students from 11 States contended that the decision to hold JEE (Main) through online mode and NEET through offline mode was arbitrary, whimsical and violative of the fundamental rights of lakhs of students who are appearing for the exams.

The Supreme Court dismissed the petition after Solicitor-General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the National Testing Agency which conducts the exams, submitted before the Court that all safeguards will be taken while holding the exams.

Trauma Centre as COVID Hospital: Works going on in full swing

Mysuru, Aug. 18 (KS&RKB)- Works on the new and ultra-modern Mysuru Trauma Care Centre in PKTB premises on KRS Road to be utilised as another COVID-19 Hospital in the wake of rising Coronavirus cases is going on in full swing.

At present, the works on Central Oxygen Supply System, false ceiling, screen partitions have been completed and the works on installing the lift is going on.

Meanwhile, District Health Officer Dr. R. Venkatesh, speaking to SOM this morning said that most of the works have been completed and the Hospital would function shortly.

But, apart from the above completed works, works on installing various medical equipment, cots and beds and other facilities are yet to be taken up.

It may be recalled that Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, while addressing the Task Force meeting of Chamaraja Constituency along with MLA L. Nagendra, MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde and Corporator M.U. Subbaiah at ZP Hall recently, had said that the Centre can accommodate 246 beds and 46 ventilators.

"All the patients suffering from Severe Acute Respiratory Illness (SARI) and Influenza-like Illness (ILI) at the K.R. Hospital at present will be shifted to this Trauma Centre and the K.R. Hospital will be reserved to treat non-COVID patients. The Trauma Hospital is a second major advanced facility to treat COVID patients after the District Hospital that has now been converted into an exclusive facility to treat virus-infected patients," he added.

Huge compost pit to recycle food waste

Dr. Ashok said that as there is no vehicle (garbage truck) to transport the waste, a request was made for the same to the district administration which has assured of providing a garbage truck to transport waste to the compost pit.

Meanwhile, the district administration considering the well kept CCC at the Academic Bhavan of Karnataka State Open University in Mandakalli has now given Dr. Ashok an additional responsibility of solving various problems at the COVID Hospital on KRS Road in city.

It may be recalled that the COVID Care Centre at the Academic Bhavan of KSOU in Mandakalli began functioning from July 15 and 1,100 patients have been discharged so far. The facility has 607 beds with 526 patients undergoing treatment at present.

There are 51 rooms and the Ground Floor has been converted into a parking space and also a space for doctors, nurses and care facility administration staff.

Each room has WiFi connectivity, a TV for entertainment and there are recreational facilities like chess, tennis and other indoor games to infuse positive energy among patients.

Yoga is also taught at the CCC by Dr. Madhusudhan, a Medical Officer at a Primary Health Centre (PHC), who has over eight years experience in teaching Yoga. Also, Music Therapy is conducted and nearly 1,750 patients have undergone the therapy.

Dr. Ashok, who has innate knowledge and practical experience of setting up such medical care centre in war zones and other areas of conflict where injured soldiers are treated, coordinated with Nirmithi Kendra Director Manjunath to modify the Academic Bhavan of KSOU into a COVID Care Centre.

Rapid Antigen Test continues

Mysuru, Aug.18 (RKB&DM)- The COVID-19 Rapid Antigen Test (RAT) being conducted on a mass scale by the district administration, entered the second day today, with the test conducted at five centres across the city.

At Town Hall, one of the centres that is located in the heart of the city, more than 60 people were seen voluntarily lined up even before the centre opened at 10 am. The other four centres where the RAT was conducted today are at Quba School in Udayagiri, Al-Karim School in Rajivnagar, CITB Choultry in Hebbal and Manasagangothri Open Air Theatre.

The mass RAT Testing which was launched by the district administration yesterday for wider coverage of the population, will continue for some more days at different venues and will function from 10 am to 1 pm on all days.

During the RAT Test, the Lab attendants will take nasal samples of everyone and issue reports in about 30 minutes.

On the first day of the launch yesterday, about 180 people were tested at Town Hall testing centre and 36 of them, constituting a whopping 20 percent, tested positive for COVID-19, it is learnt.

The Congress is Modi's big advantage

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Narendra Modi, of course, has gifts of leadership that put him above his challengers. But even his admirers will agree that the weaknesses of the Congress are a big factor behind his success. Consider how the Congress reacted to his victory in 2014. Rahul Gandhi resigned as Congress President, but the Congress was too confused to get out of its dynastic fixation. It refused to accept his resignation. How did the confusion end? By choosing Sonia Gandhi as interim President.

'Interim', of course, meant 'indefinite.' Feeling embarrassed, she said last week that a new Party President would be elected in the "not too distant future." Read this alongside the report that "there is a clamour for Rahul to return to the helm."

In the circumstances, don't dismiss the recurring reports that the Congress Party is on ventilator. The good news is that ventilators are rather efficient these days. Especially when used by a Grand Old Party that is renowned for its ability to die and yet live on, to expire without becoming diseased.

When the party failed to win a single seat in the last Delhi elections (63 out of its 66 candidates lost their deposits), Congressmen refused to read the message. One leader said that the new 2020 was not a defeat because in the 2015 election also it scored zero and therefore there was no loss. Logic that beats all logic.

It was left to Sharmista Mukherjee to bring sanity back to the scene. In her customary no-nonsense tone, the daughter of Pranab Mukherjee said that the party was decimated in Delhi because of "inordinate delays in decision-making, a lack of strategy and unity at the State-level, and demotivated workers." These were facts known to all, but acknowledged by the fewest of the few. Result: Yesterday's leaders rule with ideas from day before yesterday.

At one point Congressman Sandeep Dixit, a respected name in Delhi, accused the party's senior leaders of failing to find a new President for the party. Shashi Tharoor has been repeatedly airing the demand that the party elect a President. He said that "dozens of party leaders are saying privately" there must be internal elections within the Congress.

Many Congress leaders are scared that if such elections end up with a non-Gandhi President for the party, groupism will knock down the party. That may well be the case. But won't it be better for groupism to play itself out while the Gandhis are around? The Congress can grow only when it stands on the strength of internal electoral fidelities.

Today the Congress is in a respectable position only in four States. In Punjab and Chattisgarh, it is relatively comfortable. In Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh, tired-old wire-pullers manage to stay in power but dirtying the name of the party in the process. In Maharashtra, it hangs on the tails of the Shiv Sena. In Puducherry, it not only takes help from the DMK, but also agrees to cope with a Governor who imagines that she is some kind of a super Chief Minister. It is a pathetic plight for a party which at one point could boast that even a broomstick would be elected if it had a Congress ticket.

In the few spots where it has power, Congress does not enjoy a good name. That's because it flaunts only the Gandhi name. It does not flaunt names that could have brought it more legitimacy, names like Mallikarjun Kharge, Manmohan Singh, Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury, A.K. Antony. There are other ignored names that could have brought it a touch of youthful glamour — Milind Deora, Jitin Prasada, Deepender Hooda. Ignoring them, the party almost lost one of its shining stars, Sachin Pilot.

Karnataka's Congress leader Dinesh Gundu Rao, holding the Presidentship on interim basis for long, had to plead for an elected Party Chief in the State. "Our workers and leaders are in a state of confusion," he said. In Kerala, young voices are not heard in the Congress.

Sonia Gandhi herself has now realised that her sell-by date is over. But her party is nowhere near internal elections despite Shashi Tharoor's proddings. This may seem like an internal Congress party problem. In fact, it is a problem that concerns all of India. Democracy has become a bit of a farce with the BJP having an unhealthy majority in the Parliament and that leading to the Prime Minister pursuing an authoritarian line with no one to question him effectively. The alternative to a meaningful Opposition is a one-party dictatorship.

Three Cheetahs arrive at Mysuru Zoo

Travel for three days from South Africa

Mysuru, Aug. 18 (MTY&KS)- Cheetahs, considered as the fastest animal on this planet, arrived at Mysuru Zoo last night under the Animal Exchange Programme.

Three Cheetahs (one male and two females) arrived at Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens from South Africa Cheetah Centre at Johannesburg via Singapore and Bengaluru. The animals aged 14, 15 and 16 months travelled from South Africa to Singapore and again to Bengaluru by plane yesterday afternoon, from where they were brought to Mysuru Zoo on road last night.

Cheetah (Acinonyx jubatus) is a large cat native to Africa and Central Iran. It is the fastest land animal, capable of running at 80 to 128 km/h (50 to 80 mph) and as such has several adaptations for speed. They can accelerate from 0 to 68 miles per hour in just three seconds and are the only big cat that can turn in mid-air while sprinting.

The three Cheetahs are now isolated and kept under observation at the Zoo and made to acclimatise to city's weather condition before being displayed to visitors.

WORD OF THE DAY

Vinaceous

Pronunciation: vye-NAY-shus.
Meaning: Of the colour of red wine.
Origin: The first recorded evidence of vinaceous in English dates from 1678, shortly before the accession of Mary II. If ever the queen used vinaceous, she was probably in the confines of her landscaped garden, admiring the vinaceous shades of petals or studying the vinaceous cap of a mushroom; since its beginning, vinaceous has flourished in the earthy lexicon of horticulture and mycology. It has also taken flight in the ornithological world as a descriptive word for the unique red coloring of some birds, like the vinaceous purple finch.
Example: The dove had a slight vinaceous tinge on its breast and tail.

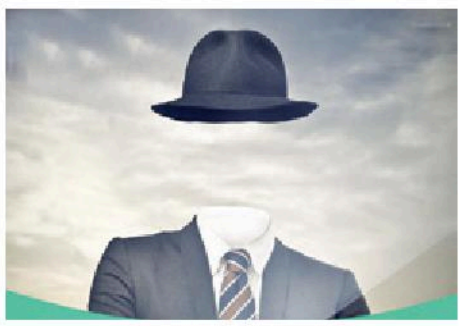
PHRASE OF THE DAY

Vanish into thin air



Meaning: Disappear without trace.
Origin: Shakespeare came close to this phrase in Othello, 1604:
Clown: Then put up your pipes in your bag, for I'll away. Go; vanish into air; away! and closer still in The Tempest, 1610:
Prospero: These our actors, as I foretold you, were all spirits and are melted into air, into thin air
It seems clear that Shakespeare coined the terms thin air (which has been widely used since the 17th century by a diverse collection of authors, including John Milton (1671), William Blake (1800) and Ed McBain (1977) and vanish into air, used by lesser-known author; James Hogg, in his work Mountain Bard, 1807. Shakespeare didn't put the two together to make vanish into thin air though. The first use I can find of that phrase, which is clearly an adaptation of Shakespeare's terms, is in The Edinburgh Advertiser, April 1822, in a piece about the imminent conflict between Russia and Turkey:
The latest communications make these visions "vanish into thin air."

What a way to repair pothole-filled 4th Main Road at Vijayanagar

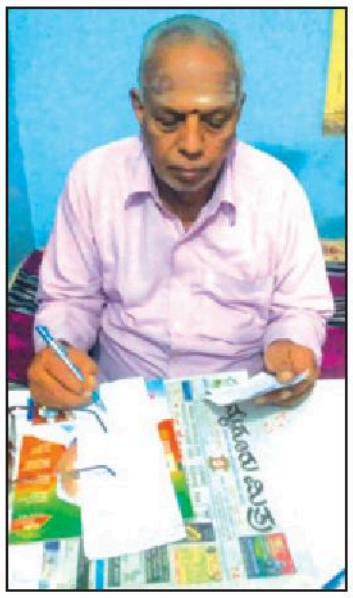
Master of Inspiring Kannada Quotes: Retired school teacher T.R. Mohan



T.R. Mohan

Mysuru, Aug. 18 (RKB&SD)- Everyday, all of us receive many 'Words of Wisdom' as WhatsApp messages on mobile phones. Most of the time, we would just quickly leaf through them and move on with our daily lives. But this retired school teacher, from the past 15 years, has been penning such beautiful Kannada quotes, walking down ever day to few nearby shops and hotels and displaying hand-written Quotable Quotes prominently in front of them.

A resident of Agrahara in city, T.R. Mohan is a retired school teacher. His favourite hobby is creating, curating and collecting Kannada quotes about grateful living and other such topics.

Every morning, after completing his normal morning routines, he takes a walk to nearby Hotel New Lakshmi Tiffanies, Thyagaraja Road and other few hotels and restaurants in Agrahara, most of them located in the vicinity of his residence.

Not to enjoy a snack or coffee there, but to write down Inspiring Kannada Quote on the whiteboards hanging prominently in the front of those hotels and restaurants.

'One who laughs about himself is a Seer, one who laughs without reason is Crazy, one who laughs at others is an Idiot' (Thannolage Naguvavanu Jnani, Thaane Naguvavanu Huccha, Innobbarannu Nodi Naguvavanu Ayogya).

This 74-year-old school teacher, till date, has penned thousands of such inspiring quotes in Kannada.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Tagaduru Rangaswamy Mohan said, "During my schooling days, my teacher used to instruct me to write down a Subhashitha (aphorisms) on the black board every day, as my handwriting was good and attractive. Later, after I started working as a school teacher, every day, I used to ask my students to write the good things, that they have done on that particular day, on the black board. A student would write 'today, I helped my mother with her daily chores' and another would write 'today, I planted a sapling.' For 22 years, I have worked as a teacher. After my retirement in 2005, from the past 15 years, I have been writing quotes in Kannada and displaying them on public places to inspire people."

Now-a-days, people share quotes and other such motivational messages on their mobile phones. This is another unique way of transforming people's lives through words. For this service, retired school teacher Mohan does not expect to get any monitory benefit in return. "Rather, I should be thankful to those hotels owners for giving me such an opportunity," he humbly said.

From the past 15 years, everyday, Mohan sir has been visiting our hotel to write these inspirational quotes. Each quote is unique. Till date, he has written thousands of them here.

—Mallesh, Hotel New Lakshmi Tiffanies

I would suggest people who read these quotes to practice them in their daily life. It would certainly make a lot of difference in their lives. Reading epics such as Ramayana and Mahabharata is also my hobby."

—T.R. Mohan, retired School Teacher, Agrahara
